From the Desks of the Co-Presidents

Julie Simpkins & Greg Echols

The Senior Living/Healthcare industry lost over 200,000 workers during 2020-2022. These 200,000 people have not returned to the Senior Living/Healthcare workforce. In an industry where people are at our core, we want to encourage others to consider a career in Senior Living. As a career path Senior Living offers an extensive upward path. Entry as a personal care attendant while in school can lead to certification, professional licensing, supervision, to executive positions. We would like to encourage each of you reading this newsletter to encourage a high school or college student who is considering Senior Living/Healthcare as a career to work part-time in a senior living community. Here are some reasons why it would be beneficial:

1. Relevant Experience: if a student is pursuing a degree or career in Senior Living Healthcare, working in the field will provide them with valuable practical experience. This can enhance their understanding of the industry, help them develop essential skills, and make them more competitive when applying for future Senior Living/Healthcare-related positions.
2. Networking Opportunities: Working in Senior Living/Healthcare will allow a student to meet professionals in the field, including owners, physicians, nurses, administrators, and other Senior Living/Healthcare staff. Building relationships with these individuals can lead to mentorship opportunities, letters of recommendation, and potential job offers down the line.
3. Flexibility: Our communities offer flexible work schedules making it easier to balance a job alongside studies. This flexibility can allow a student to gain work experience without compromising their academic commitments.
4. Financial Stability: Working a part-time job in Senior Living/Healthcare can provide a student with a steady income to support their education. Senior Living/Healthcare jobs often pay well, especially for positions that require specialized skills or certifications.
5. Personal Growth: Working in Senior Living/Healthcare can be incredibly rewarding, as a student will have the opportunity to make a positive impact on people's lives. It can also teach them valuable life skills, such as empathy, problem-solving, teamwork and leadership, which can be beneficial in both their personal and professional life.

As you or someone you know prepares to go back to school, please consider the opportunities a part-time job in Senior Living/Healthcare provides. Senior Living/Healthcare will always need People fueled by purpose. At Gardant we honor our mission by providing vitality to all residents and employees.

ABOUT THE MONTH OF AUGUST

Rick Banas

In a regular year, no other month of the year starts on the same day of the week as August. In a leap year, only the leap month of February starts on the same day of the week as August.

The sandwich was invented in August 1762 when the Earl of Sandwich requested two slices of bread with meat sandwiched in the middle.

During the month of August, bamboo can grow up to two inches an hour.

On Aug. 18, 1920, the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution was ratified, granting women the right to vote.

On Aug. 14, 1935, President Franklin Roosevelt signed the Social Security Act, creating social insurance for retired workers 65 years of age and older. Average life expectancy in 1935 was 59.9 for men and 63.9 for women.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. delivered his “I Have a Dream” speech on Aug. 28, 1963 from the steps of the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C. One of his dreams was that “my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character.” He also talked about living in a country where “little black boys and little black girls will be able to join hands with little white boys and little white girls as sisters and brothers.”

August is National Peach Month and National Eye Exam Awareness Month.

Aug. 3 is National Watermelon Day. Watermelons are more than 90% water so they are great for hydration. They are low in calories and packed with antioxidants and nutrients such as Vitamins A and C, potassium, and magnesium. The first recorded watermelon harvest occurred 5,000 years ago in Egypt. Early explorers used watermelons as canteens. In the United States, five states – Florida, Texas, California, Georgia, and Indiana generally grow the most watermelons.

Benefits of Game Play for Seniors

Deborah Denham RN, MSN, CPPS, CPHRM

Games help connect us to those around us in an entertaining and meaningful way. Play motivates the senses, invigorates the imagination, and keeps the memory sharp.

Illinois's Affordable Assisted Living Coalition sponsors a Wii Bowling Tournament and a Spelling Bee for the Supportive Living Communities. The communities have teams that compete virtually with other teams at other communities. In the end two teams will go to Springfield in October for the "Wii World Series" to vie for the coveted title of Wii World Series Champion. The top team from each region for the Spelling Bee will compete in person for the Championship in Springfield in October.

Playing games is important because they can improve memory and help with age related memory loss because stimulating the brain with numbers, letters, colors, etc. enhances brain function. It is like exercise for your brain. The benefits go beyond the brain and promote independence, physical activity, friendship, and more.

Playing card games can improve short-term and long-term memory. Did you know Warren Buffett, 92, and Bill Gates, 67, regularly play bridge? A British Medical Journal study notes that the risk of dementia was 15 percent lower in board game players than in non-players.

There are side effects to playing games though. Playing board games can reduce stress and create more happiness. Playing board games triggers the release of endorphins, the body's natural "feel-good" chemicals. "Happy hormones" have the power to improve mind functions, leaving a person feeling cheerful, compassionate, and ultimately content. Physical games can improve balance, stretching, strength, coordination, and reflexes. If you are not already taking full advantage of the gaming activities at your community, consider the benefits and the time well spent. Enjoy!

A Note from the Executive Director

Jacque Dearborn

August is loaded with “National Raspberry” days so let’s just consider this “The Month of the Raspberry”. July 31st end the month with “National Raspberry Cake Day” so it is fitting that August 1st marks “National Raspberry Cream Pie Day”. Raspberries are the edible fruit of the raspberry plant. Not only do they grow on woody stemmed perennials, but they’re a very commercial crop, too. If their thorny stems remind you of a rose bush, that’s because they are in the rose family. Their genus name is Rubus. Raspberries are rich in vitamin C, manganese and fiber. They also contain vitamins B1, B3, folic acid, magnesium, copper and iron. August 7th is “National Raspberries N’ Cream Day”, then onto August 11th with “National Raspberry Bombe Day”.

The red raspberry (Rubus idaeus) is indigenous to Asia Minor and North America. Fruits were gathered from the wild by the people of Troy in the foothills of Mt. Ida around the time of Christ. Records of domestication were found in the 4th century writings of Palladius, a Roman agriculturist, and seeds have been discovered at Roman forts in Britain. Therefore, the Romans are thought to have spread cultivation throughout Europe. In 1761, George Washington moved to his estate in Mount Vernon where he began to cultivate berries in his extensive gardens. By 1867 over 40 different varieties were known. After the Civil War, major production areas emerged in the regions of New York, Michigan, Oregon, Washington, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana. By 1880, approximately 2,000 acres were in cultivation.

So enjoy some of the raspberry treats Cambridge House of Swansea has instore for you this month!
